

Healing between Men and Women

Nelson, BC

August 4 to 5, 2017

9 am to 5 pm

Nelson Community Complex
305 Hall Street (Main Hall)

A workshop on the art and mystery of relationship

Anngwyn and Karl-Heinz have collaborated as friends and facilitators for 16 years. As an American woman and a German man, they have deep insight into the effects of history and conflict on personal lives

Karl-Heinz Rauscher is a practicing medical doctor and writer from Germany, specializing in internal medicine, psychotherapy, and addiction work. He has been facilitating constellations for 24 years and is also a trainer in the work. He is interested in the ways harmony or conflict between women and men echo across larger social patterns.*

Anngwyn St. Just has spent a lifetime on working on personal, societal, and collective trauma. She began her career as an emergency room nurse, studied art history at Berkeley, and worked closely with Peter Levine studying trauma and Bert Hellinger in his early work in the US. She has facilitated constellations across the globe for 20 years and has written nine books on trauma and constellation work.*

This workshop focuses on bringing resolution and real peace into relationships between men and women. Dr. Karl-Heinz Rauscher, MD, and Anngwyn St. Just, PhD, combine their expertise in trauma and systemic constellation work to look at patterns that hurt us or disconnect us from each other.

Although we may not realize it, many difficulties have their roots in family, social, and historical trauma. This work looks at these systemic, often hidden causes of pain and misunderstanding. While we are opposite genders, men and women are in reality two aspects of our collective soul. If we understand this, we can honour and find ways to reconcile our real and imagined differences.

Please join us for this work if you're interested or contact us with more questions.

Fees*

$350 for two-day workshop

$600 for two-day workshop for a couple

$200 for one day of the workshop

To register, please email: constellationworkshops2017@gmail.com

You can pay by email transfer or if you'd rather pay by cheque, let us know and we'll send you the address when you register.

*If you are concerned about being able to afford the fee, let us know.